

Inequalities and Social Determinants of Health: Collective Nursing Action

CHNAC Conference 2009
Calgary, Alberta

Lisa Ashley, RN, MEd, CCHN(C)
Canadian Nurses Association

Social Justice is...

- A founding pillar of nursing and public health
- A critical goal of social progress

Ethical Nursing Practice

- Endeavouring to address broad aspects of social justice that are associated with health and well-being

Individual Nursing Practice

- Understand the impact of social determinants
- Consider social determinants in your nursing process
- Help communities to understand the link to health ways to take action
- Know your community resources

Reorienting the health care system

- Ensure health promotion programs go beyond lifestyle and behaviour
- Encourage a social determinants approach at local, provincial/territorial and federal levels
- Advocate for universal access

Healthy public policies

- Speak from experience
- Make decision-makers aware
- Look at structural issues of class, race and gender
- Develop initiatives

Global Nursing Connections
Connecting nurses for global health

Submit your experience today!
(<http://connections.cna-aiic.ca>)

The Environment and Health:
What Nurses
Can Do

CANADIAN
NURSES
ASSOCIATION

Lisa Ashley, RN, MEd, CCHN(C)
Nurse Consultant, Nursing Policy
Canadian Nurses Association

lashley@cna-aiic.ca