I've heard that it's possible to pass HPV through oral sex and that HPV has been linked to some oral cancers. Is there any evidence that supports these conclusions or is this just speculation? What is the actual risk of infection, if any.

BBBJ and the Risks`

Hi Health Nurse

Wondering if you could please inform me of the risks of doing bare back blow jobs....an alarming amount of sp's are turning in this direction and I would like to let them know what they are/could be doing to themselves, aka contracting...(and the risk(s) the are putting to their clients)

Thanks for your help,

Bobbi In Vic

Could you include a comparison to the risks for DATY as well?

You got a mighty purdy mouth

Welcome to our new blog/podcast

January 28, 2009 by healthnurse

Hi everyone,

Thanks for visiting our new blog/podcast.

From our experience we have found that a great deal of stigma and silence surrounds sex workers and their customers. This can make it difficult to have your sexual health questions answered.

We have found that the internet is a great way to provide sexual health information in a factual, non judgemental and safe way. For the past 2 years we have providing sexual health information to the members of PERB (Pacific Escort Review Board). This blog/podcast is an extension of this service.

The services offered on this blog/podcast are:

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ) about sexual health: We have gathered the most common questions that we have been asked about sexual health and provided information on them. This will be an ongoing process. If you have additional questions about the subject or a different subject let us know and we will update the answer.

HPV vaccine and sex workers.

April 20, 2009 by healthnurse

The human papilloma virus (HPV) is a common sexually transmitted infection. Recently a vaccine has been developed and is being recommended for girls and young woman aged 9 through 26 years.

In our first podcast we ask Dr Gina Ogilvie from the BC Center for Disease Control about the vaccine and whether sex workers should get it.

Hand Job

Edit

I went to a massage parlour recently and got a hand job. Can I get an STD from this? In what circumstances it is possible?

Getting a hand job is considered a low risk, safer sex activity and we do not really see infections passing this way.

It would be theoretically possible to transmit Herpes from the hand to the genitals but it is uncommon for this to happen.

It is possible that if a person has infected fluid on their hand (vaginal fluid, semen/cum) that they could transfer that fluid to the genitals and possibly spread an infection. But it is not a common way to transmit infections such as chlamydia and gonorrhoea. It is always important to avoid contact with another person's blood.

If you are still nervous about any possible risk with a hand job, and think that you will worry afterwards, then you can get the other person to wear a medical exam glove.

Hi all

We are a group of registered nurses who work for the BC Center for Disease Control. We provide sexual health information on several websites.

Below is a website with information on sexually transmitted infections. We also have a few clinics that offer free, confidential testing and information. You do not need ID or medical insurance at these clinics.

Here is the link to our website

We are STI prevention nurses with the BC Centre for Disease Control. It is our job to promote sexual health.

Currently there is a big increase in the number of cases of syphilis in BC amongst people who are involved in sex work and their customers.

Most people do not notice signs or symptoms when they have syphilis. For that reason we recommend that you get regular testing if you have sex. Syphilis is detected through a blood test and is easily treated.

Here are two clinics where you can get free, confidential testing. You do not need ID or status in Canada to get tested and treated.

The navigation menu includes links for HOME, ABOUT US, MEDIA ROOM, E-BULLETIN, MULTIMEDIA, FAQs, and FRANÇAIS. A search bar is located in the top left. The main content area features a large banner with five colored circles representing different user groups: Adults, Teachers, Teens, Parents, and Health Professionals. Below this is a "WHAT'S GOING ON..." section with several featured articles and images, including "Choosing Wisely", "Oral sex and STIs", "Not just cold sores", "ABORIGINAL CONTRACEPTION AWARENESS PROJECT", "DATE RAPE", and "Sex over 50". A central section titled "HEAR OUR STORIES" features photos of Vanessa and Drew. To the right, there is a section for the "MONTHLY E-BULLETIN" and a "WHAT'S NEW ON SEXUALITYANDU" section with a list of recent updates.

Your Search for "Abortion" Yields Nothing

By Amie Newman on Apr 3, 2008 - 10:00am | 1 comment

Why has the Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health's medical database blacked out the word "abortion" from its searchable terms? Does federal funding equal censorship?

Marriage Is No Protection Against HIV

By Florence Machio on Apr 3, 2008 - 8:43am | 1 comment

For women in Africa, marriage is no protection against HIV. Their challenge is how to start negotiating for condom use 20 years into their marriages.

Dude, Where Are My Reproductive Rights?

By Sarah Seltzer on Apr 3, 2008 - 8:44am | 2 comments

Dudely subculture -- the smart-funny-cool-ironic hybrid that defines our age and has raised effective challenges to everything from Iraq war to the surveillance state -- has been too silent when it comes to the rights of women that have been so viciously been eroded in the past eight years.

Positive Friends

The screenshot shows the Positive Friends website. At the top left, the logo reads "POSITIVE FRIENDS" with a plus sign. To its right, the tagline "Think Positive" is displayed above the text: "Free social support and dating website for those affected by STDs. We offer you the ability to engage without giving up your anonymity." Below this is a large image of a woman on a motorcycle with the quote: "Our professional and peer-to-peer support allow members to find solid information in a comfortable atmosphere." To the right of the image is a quote from Dr. Rachel, a Positive Friends on Staff Therapist. Further right is a login section for existing members and a registration form with fields for username, password, email, zip code, gender, and how they heard about the site. Below the registration form is a "Take The Tour" link and a "Join Now!" button. A TRUSTe logo is also present. The bottom section of the page is a dark blue footer with three columns: "Positive Social Support Network", "Positive Health Services", and "Positive Anonymity". To the right of the footer is a "Positive Friends Health Facts" section featuring a "This Week's Question" and "Dr. Rachel's Answer" regarding genital herpes.

This Week's Question.
Dear Dr. Rachel,
I recently had sex with a guy I did not know very well and was told after the fact that he has genital herpes. But I did not see anything on his penis. I am going to go to the Doctor this week for a test but was wondering how...

Dr. Rachel's Answer.
Dear Wanting Accuracy Info,
About one in five adults in the United States has genital herpes, but most people don't know they are infected because their symptoms are too mild to notice or mistaken for another condition. While Herpes... read the rest of this post.
